PREFACE

One of the problems in connection with the issuance of the Register and Manual is to retain that which has proved to be valuable in the sense of being useful, and in presenting the 1936 Register, we have attempted to have its contents as brief and authoritative as possible.

In compiling the 1935 Register we departed from the conventional color, and adopted blue in keeping with our Tercentenary Celebration. This change has been so well received that we have decided to continue its use in this issue. There has been some rearrangement and restoration of statistical data, which, together with the new material, should add to its value.

It is the desire of those interested in the compilation to express their gratitude to all those who have so greatly assisted by prompt compliance to requests for statistical and other information.

C. JOHN SATTI,

Secretary.

CONNECTICUT STATE CAPITOL

THE TERCENTENARY IN REVIEW

SAMUEL H. FISHER

In the year 1635 three small bands of pioneers were beginning a precarious existence in the river settlements which subsequently became the towns of Windsor, Hartford and Wethersfield. From these early settlements there has grown the Commonwealth of Connecticut, rugged in its individualism, strong in its traditions, persistent in its ideas of economy. From the soil of this Colony and State have sprung leaders in religion, literature, medicine and industry, and here was formulated the first written document embodying the principles of self-government based on constitutional liberty.

Several years ago there was quietly voiced a desire to pay tribute in this tercentennial year to those founders of Connecticut as well as those who later helped develop the Commonwealth and who brought fame to it during these intervening years.

A meeting, at which different sections of the State were represented, was held in Hartford in December, 1927, at the home of Dr. George C. F. Williams. Those present agreed on the appropriateness of such a celebration and, under the leadership of the host of this first gathering, the idea of a Tercentenary was laid before the General Assembly at its session in 1929. The plan met with favor and a special act was passed authorizing the Governor to appoint a commission to make plans "for participation by the state in the appropriate observance of the three hundredth anniversary of the settlement of Connecticut as a colony." Such a Commission was duly appointed, and continued by authority of acts passed at succeeding sessions of the General Assembly.

The Commission decided early that the celebration should be in keeping with the manners, methods and habits characteristic of the people of Connecticut,—that there should be a conservative, orderly progression of events following the best traditions of the State. This ideal persisted in the planning, and in the actual execution of the plans, from that day until the end of the celebration.

There may be said to have been four primary objectives in the mind of the Commission, and the events of the year have contributed more or less definitely toward these ends.

1. First, to record in permanent form the traditions of the past, and thus to point out the rich heritage the people of today have derived from their forefathers.

Naturally the most direct method of transmitting the stories of the early days was by publication. The Commission arranged for the printing and distribution of a series of historical pamphlets covering in somewhat popular form incidents of history thought to deserve a more permanent place in the records of Connecticut, many of which hitherto had been neglected or touched upon too briefly in available written accounts.

These were supplemented by an intensive study of Connecticut history in the schools of the State. The study was made as comprehensive and attractive as possible by combining classroom work with lighter voluntary work, such as pageantry, plays and essays. This, which was one of the first activities of the Commission, was continued throughout the period of observance and will undoubtedly be carried on for many years as a result of the impetus given it during the year.

Addresses on historical topics and interpretations of the influences of the past were frequent throughout the State during the entire period of the Tercentenary.

2. The second purpose was to interpret to the people at large the influences of the past and recount the occurrences of great historical significance by presenting them in popular and impressive form through exhibitions, pageants and parades, on a scale not only impressive but of enough magnitude and in such a variety of places as to give everyone an opportunity to see them and thus visualize the life and accomplishments of the former citizens of the State. Great exhibitions of furniture, paintings, costumes, utensils, books, maps, documents, records and other things which have been cherished as mementos of the men and women and the life of earlier days, but were seldom, if ever, on view to the public, came forth during the celebration and were assembled in attractive settings.

3. The third aim was to bring together the different elements of our population so that groups with various national antecedents could have an opportunity to learn the history of the State and some of the traditions of American life while telling of the rich folk lore of their own mother countries and the contributions of their representatives to the present life of the Commonwealth. Thereby they would have greater pride in their adopted country and understand more clearly the contributions which they make to the life of the people. The keen, active interest in the parades and pageants of these varied racial groups evidenced their appreciation of this feature of the Tercentenary.

4. The fourth object was the practical one. Perhaps the best results for the State were effected by the advertising and publicity attendant upon the celebration. Without any particular fanfare, those outside its borders were made aware of the splendid past, rich with the accomplishments of its citizens in government, law, art and craftsmanship, which Connecticut could celebrate. The people of the United States and those of many other lands know more about Connecticut because of the Tercentenary, and have a new picture of the State which was well worth while developing in the minds of the world at large.

Aside from the educational program already referred to and the publication of the historical pamphlets, as well as the issuance of souvenirs designed as appropriate mementos, the public ceremonies of the observance began on April 26th when there was held at Hartford a joint meeting of the Supreme Court of Errors, the General Assembly and representatives of the administrative branches of the Government. The day was chosen as an anniversary of the meeting of the first General Corte of Connecticut, that body from which the three branches of our present governmental system have descended. The principal address of the day was by Chief Justice William M. Maltbie. More than three thousand people filled the hall and many others outside heard the exercises through amplifiers.

About this time an essay contest, which had been conducted in the schools of the State, came to a close. In all parts of the State pupils of the public, private and parochial schools had been encouraged to write historical essays, and on May 10th the writers of the best twenty-four compositions of the contest received awards from the hands of the Governor for the excellence of their work.

Early in the month of June the Commission arranged, through the cooperation of musical clubs throughout the State, a choral concert in the Yale Bowl in New Haven with a great massed chorus of some three thousand singers. While this was designed as a form of popular entertainment, it also provided an effective medium for creating interest in the Tercentenary, for the singers were drawn from nearly every part of the State and the audience came from all sections of Connecticut as well as from other States. The program was broadcast over a hookup of about thirty radio stations of the United States and Canada.

In this State the town has always played an important part. It might be said to be the keystone of our political, social and economic structure. Connecticut is not dominated by any one great city, as is the case in many states. It is not surprising, therefore, that it early became obvious that the success of the Tercentenary was dependent on the cooperation of the various towns of the State rather than on any one great central event. To this end cooperation was sought from the different communities and, as an understanding of this desire on the part of the Commission became generally known, the aid and support of the several towns was readily given.

Town after town, through local committees, arranged something of interest such as exhibits, balls, pageants, parades, meetings, dinners, plays and reunions. Before the summer was over all but seven towns of the State had some sort of organized participation, and these seven towns have a combined population of less than twelve thousand. Nowhere, so far as known, has there ever been such whole-hearted cooperation in every community of a State as in the towns of Connecticut in the observance of this Tercentenary. Nearly three million people have attended these local affairs which have proved the real heart of the celebration.

The observances took various forms, according to the inclinations of the communities and the size of the towns. In some cases several places combined to produce a more elaborate program. They varied from some sixty or more colorful pageants and parades, witnessed by hundreds of thousands, to simple gatherings on village greens under the graceful elms or maples. Historic relics and family heirlooms were brought forth for display. Dedicatory exercises were held when statues and other landmarks were unveiled. Indian villages and settlers' cabins were reproduced. Many old meeting houses and neglected public buildings were restored, and in one town at least a permanent memorial was cut in the natural rock beside a much traveled highway.

It is not possible to recount all the varied activities of the different localities in these tercentennial celebrations, nor do credit to the many thousands of participants, but the spirit of cooperation fostered in these affairs, the local history revived, the impetus to local and State pride quickened by them is incalculable.

Also during the summer there were a number of State exhibits. One of the most representative collections of authentic Colonial furniture was assembled in Hartford and was visited by thousands. In New Haven there were unusual displays of the paintings by such early Connecticut artists as John Trumbull, Ralph Earl and Samuel F. B. Morse, as well as exhibits of silver and prints. The historical societies and leading libraries brought forth for examination their treasures of maps, books, prints and documents relating to Connecticut to prove an inspiration to the student and historian.

These were followed in the fall by other exercises. The Federal Government recognized the occasion and sent a squadron of destroyers to New London. The officers and men were welcomed in appropriate manner.

An educational day, with selected pupils and teachers from every town attending a meeting in Hartford, was followed on Monday morning of the next week with exercises in every school of the State commemorative of the founding of the Colony.

An Industrial Exposition in the State Armory in Hartford from October 2nd to October 12th, inclusive, gave the manufacturers of the State an opportunity to evince their patriotism. This was a non-commercial display with no selling or advertising. Groups of manufacturers representing different industries combined to present the development of their products historically over the years, as well as their present day output. Here again was shown a whole-hearted spirit of cooperation and nearly two hundred thousand people from home and abroad visited this Exposition and learned of our industrial growth.

On the evening of October 5th a choral concert of male voices charmed an enthusiastic audience in the Music Shed on the estate of Mrs. Carl Stoeckel in Norfolk. The three hundred singers came from different parts of the State and a nation-wide hookup gave the people of this and neighboring States an opportunity to hear the delightful program.

On Saturday and Sunday, the 5th and 6th of October, occurred the Connecticut Sabbath when the peoples of the different faiths and creeds met in their churches, pursuant to a proclamation of the Governor, to give thanks for their blessings and to recall the part which religion has played in the story of the Colony and State.

These services were of varied types. In some cases the regular programs included special prayers and talks, while in others there were reproduced the early Colonial services with the congregations in appropriate costumes.

No ceremony showed the keen interest of the various racial groups as did the indoor pageant which was staged in the Bushnell Memorial Hall in Hartford on the three evenings of October 8th, 9th and 10th. It was entitled "America's Making in Connecticut" and included among its actors all the principal nationalities which make up the citizenry of the State. A gorgeous spectacle, it recalled many of the leading historic episodes of Connecticut, climaxing in a striking gathering of all these representative racial groups in a beautiful scene which exemplified the spirit of cooperative endeavor possible in the years to come.

Early in the afternoon of Friday, October 11th, the Commission and special guests held a reception in the Memorial Hall of the State Library. This was followed by a dinner at the Hartford Club in an unusual, distinctive setting with modern skits showing the early Puritans and their natural enemies, the Indians. A great public meeting, held later in Bushnell Memorial Hall, included in its program an ode written for the occasion by Wilbert Snow of Wesleyan University, an historical address by James Rowland Angell, the President of Yale University, a short talk by Wilbur L. Cross, Governor of Connecticut (all of which are included in this pamphlet), as well as songs by Lawrence Tibbets, the popular baritone. The meeting was representative of the best traditions of the State, just as the reception and dinner were characteristic of Connecticut hospitality.

The morning of Saturday, October 12th, dawned clear and bright and soon the city of Hartford was alive in anticipation of the Tercentenary parade. Promptly at ten thirty, the scheduled time, the procession started, and for three hours there passed in review colorful marching units and floats depicting scenes from the history of the Colony and State. Few incidents of major importance in the story of Connecticut were omitted in the more than one hundred floats. This tremendous spectacle was a complete panorama of the life of the State from its founding to the present day. It was a fitting tribute to Connecticut by her citizens, for its success was the result of fine cooperative efforts of towns, schools, civic organizations, racial groups, business firms and individuals.

Among the marchers were a number of representatives of the Centennial Legion, old military organizations from most of the original thirteen States. These and other visitors were guests in the evening at a Colonial Ball in the Armory at New Haven, while in Hartford on the same evening a display of fireworks was witnessed by some twenty-five thousand people in one of the public parks.

Appropriately the Tercentenary celebration ended on the same note with which the first settlement of Connecticut began—that of prayer and religious observance. In all the larger cities impressive religious union services were held on Sunday, October 13th, in which members of all denominations and creeds took part.

The program of the Tercentenary, while of necessity changed from time to time, perhaps displayed a continuity as well ordered as any which could have been laid out in advance and adhered to rigidly. There was something of interest for everyone. It touched all the activities in Connecticut life, past and present. History was reviewed. The progress of the Commonwealth was traced in arts, classical and manual, in government, education, literature, industry and business. Our modern ingenuity was taxed to reproduce these things of the past in the most comprehensive manner while affording a worth while entertainment.

It is impossible in this brief resumé to do justice to all the activities of the Commission, its committees and the local groups. There were such hospitable features as the Information Booths at the several entrances to the State to welcome and advise visitors. Guides and attractive maps, local and State-wide, were made available, and in general the people of the State were in a kindly, receptive mood.

So, by music, by printed matter, by word of mouth, by visual display, Connecticut set forth her history and her characteristics to the world at large. No one could travel over her graceful hills or cross the streams which flow southward to the Sound or visit her pleasant shores this past summer, attending here and there the varied celebrations, without feeling the richness of her heritage, without recognizing the healthy, joyous spirit abroad and without having confidence in her people and trust in her future. Many from outside her borders realized this year the charms of our State as never before, and Connecticut discovered herself anew and found the discovery pleasing.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

In Congress, July 4, 1776

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION of the THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed will dictate, that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused to assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment of any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond the seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies.

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrection amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connexions and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and to consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name, and by the authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States: that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

of the governor, or of his impeachment or absence from the state, the lieutenant-governor shall exercise the powers and authority appertaining to the office of governor, until another be chosen at the next periodical election for governor, and be duly qualified; or until the disability be removed, or until the governor, impeached or absent, shall be acquitted or return.

ARTICLE XXXV.

The general assembly shall adjourn sine die not later than the first Wednesday after the first Monday in June following its organization.

In all cases in which the governor shall exercise the right of disapproval hereby conferred he shall append to the bill at the time of signing it a statement of the item or items disapproved, together with his reasons for such disapproval, and transmit the bill and such appended statement to the secretary. Art. 37. Adopted November, 1924.

ARTICLE XXXIX.

The general assembly shall have power to provide by law for voting by qualified voters of the state who are absent from the city or town of which they are inhabitants at the time of an election or because of sickness or physical disability are unable to appear at the polling places on the day of election, in the choice of any officer to be elected or upon any question to be voted on at such election.

ARTICLE XL.

Each bill which shall have passed both houses of the general assembly shall be presented to the governor. If he shall approve, he shall sign and transmit it to the secretary of the state, but if he shall disapprove, he shall transmit it to the secretary with his objections, and the secretary shall thereupon return the bill to the house in which it originated, with the governor's objections, which shall be entered on the journal of the house, which shall proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, that house shall again pass it, it shall be sent with the objections to the other house, which shall also reconsider it. If approved, it shall be a law and be transmitted to the secretary; but in such case the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. In case the governor shall not transmit the bill to the secretary, either with his approval or with his objections, within five calendar days, Sundays and legal holidays excepted after the same shall have been presented to him, it shall be a law at the expiration of the period unless the general assembly shall then have adjourned sine die, in which case the bill shall be a law unless the governor shall, within fifteen calendar days after the same shall have been presented to him, transmit it to the secretary with his objections, in which case it shall not be a law.

Bills may be presented to the governor after the adjournment sine die of the general assembly, and the general assembly may by law consistent with this amendment regulate the time and method of performing all ministerial acts necessary or incidental to the administration of this amendment. This amendment shall not impair the powers granted to the governor by Article XXXVII of the amendments to the Constitution.

ARTICLE XLI.

Article XXVI of the Amendments to the Constitution is amended to read as follows: The judges of the supreme court of errors, of the superior court and of the courts of common pleas shall, upon nomination of the governor, be appointed by the general assembly in such manner as shall by law be prescribed.

Persons intending to study law are advised to examine carefully the provisions of the Rules regulating the Admission of Attorneys and comply strictly therewith. CONNECTICUT TOWNS IN THE ORDER OF THEIR ESTABLISHMENTS; WITH THE ORIGIN OF THEIR NAMES

Until 1700 almost the only official action of the colonial government (General Court) in regard to town organization, was to authorize the town name, usually chosen by its leading man, from his home in England. In October, 1700, we find implied or quasi incorporation, such as exists to this day in the records. "This assembly doth grant to the inhabitants of the town of Lebanon all such immunities, privileges and powers, as generally other towne within this Colonie have and doe enjoy." The authoritative legal definition of a town in England, contemporary with the earliest Connecticut settlements is given in the first edition of Coke's Commentaries upon Littleton, published 1628: "It can not be a town in law, unless it hath, or in past time hath had, a church, and celebration of Divine services, sacraments and burials." The churches, which moved bodily, with their pastors, from Massachusetts to Connecticut, proceeded to exercise the secular powers which we regard as those of the town, but the English township is known by its ecclesiastical name of parish. Several of our towns were first set off as parishes from great town-tracts; yet the town in Connecticut colony essentially separated church and state in government, in that it never restricted political suffrage to church members. As to dates, the official colonial records are followed, as soon as they begin, 1636.

CONNECTICUT FROM 1756 TO 1930.

The census of 1774 embraces as a part of Litchfield County "Westmoreland, 1,922," presumably the Pennsylvania tract at that time claimed by Connecticut. "Fair Haven, 1,317," is included in the figures for 1850. "Statistics of towns" and "Connecticut Towns in the order of their establishment: Origin of Names," in this volume show the origin of the later towns, and explain many apparent losses in population of the older ones.

UNITED STATES POSTAL REGULATIONS

First Class (Limit 70 pounds):

Letters and written and sealed matter, 3 cents for each ounce, except when addressed for local delivery: Local letters, 2 cents an ounce at letter carrier offices; and 1 cent an ounce at all other offices unless collected or delivered by rural or star-route carriers, in which case the rate is 2 cents an ounce.

Letters in business reply envelopes—3 cents an ounce or fraction of an ounce, plus 1 cent additional for each letter.

Air Mail—6 cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce.

No change in the rate on postal cards, private mailing or post cards, nor in letters for local delivery at offices not having letter-carrier service.

RATES OF POSTAGE ON DOMESTIC MATTER.

1. First Class.—Letters and all other written matter whether sealed or unsealed, and all the matter, sealed, tied or fastened in any manner so that it cannot be easily examined, three cents an ounce or fraction thereof. Postal cards, one cent each. The left third of the address side of postal cards may be utilized for writing or printing. Post cards issued by private enterprise are under special regulations of the department, but in general have the same privileges, and are now 1 cent each. Local drop letters 2 cents an ounce except at offices where there is no carrier delivery service when that rate is 1 cent an ounce. Typewriting and carbon and letter press copies thereof are equivalent of handwriting and are classed as such in all cases. The rate of postage for air mail service is 6 cents per ounce or fraction thereof.

2. Second Class.—Newspapers and periodical publications when sent by publishers or news agents, the zone rates apply. Newspapers and periodical publications sent by persons other than the publishers and news agents, one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, or the fourth class rate, whichever is the lower.

3. Third Class.—Third class matter now comprises books weighing 8 ounces or less, and miscellaneous printed matter weighing 8 ounces or less. All other matter now comes under "parcel post" rates and conditions weighing over eight ounces.

Air Mail Postage Rates.—Domestic rates 6 cents per ounce or fraction of an ounce. Foreign rates, consult your Postmaster.

NAME AND ADDRESS OF SENDER.

Whenever the interest or convenience of the sender of mail matter does not forbid it he should print or write on it his name and address in the upper left-hand corner of the letter or package, obligatory in case of parcel post matter. This will secure a notice to the sender in case of non-delivery, avoiding the delay involved in sending it to the dead-letter office, and, in case of a letter, the necessary invasion of its privacy.

The reason why so many articles of dead mail matter are accumulated and sold by the department every year is that they have nothing on them to indicate who mailed them.

It is very desirable to the department to have the senders of matter endorse upon it their names and addresses.

There is also an exception with respect to sealing in the case of C.O.D. 8-ounce merchandise packages for Mexico, which may be sealed.)

Small Packets.—Three cents for each 2 ounces, with a minimum charge of 10 cents per packet. Limit of weight: 2 pounds, 3 ounces. Dimensions: Same as for letters. It is likewise permissible to enclose in small packets an open invoice reduced to its essential terms. Every small packet must be clearly marked on the wrapper by the sender with the words "small packet."

An article intended for special ("expres") delivery in any of the countries mentioned above must be prepaid 20 cents, in addition to the regular postage, by United States special-delivery or other stamps affixed to the cover. There should also be affixed one of the "expres" labels (Form 2977) or the cover must be marked boldly in red ink "Expres," directly below but never on the stamps. In some countries the service is limited to certain cities, lists of which appear under the country items in the "International Postal Service" section, Official Postal Guide. In Canada and Newfoundland the special-delivery service applies only to letters (or articles prepaid at the letter rate). In the other countries of the above list, the "expres" feature is applicable to ordinary and registered Postal Union Articles (letters, post cards, commercial papers, printed matter, samples and small packets), but not to parcel-post packages.

NOTE: Reduced bulk mailing rates under Section 562 of the Postal Laws and Regulations are no longer applicable to matter for foreign countries.

WHEN SERVICE EXISTS.

No provision is made for the transmission, in the mails proper, exchanged between the United States and foreign countries of articles of miscellaneous merchandise, unless they are sent as bona fide trade samples which comply with the prescribed conditions. But as the postal conventions do not define the term "letter," it is held that a package upon which the postage has been paid at the letter rate in full was intended by the sender to be sent as a letter; and when it does not contain prohibited articles, is required to be considered and treated as a letter. Consequently, unsealed packages addressed to foreign countries which are fully prepaid at the rate of postage applicable to letters are allowed to be forwarded to their destination, even though they contain articles of miscellaneous merchandise, provided the countries of destination permit the importation of articles liable to customs duty in the form of letters or in packages prepaid at the letter rate of postage.

PARCEL POST.

Parcel post packages may be sent to most foreign countries, and the limits of weight range from 11 to 50 pounds. Consult your Postmaster for rates, weight limits, and conditions applicable to parcel post packages addressed for delivery abroad.

Articles other than letters in their usual and ordinary form are excluded from the mails unless they are so wrapped that their contents can be easily examined by postmasters and customs officers. Any articles enclosed in an envelope, as the word "envelope" is generally used, without regard to its size, is considered to be "in the usual and ordinary form" of a letter. But unsealed package may contain, in sealed receptacles, articles which cannot be safely transmitted in unsealed receptacles; provided that the contents of the closed receptacles are plainly visible or are precisely stated on the covers of the closed receptacles and that the package is so wrapped that the outer cover can be easily opened.

All mail matter passing between the United States and Puerto Rico, Guam, the Philippines and Hawaii, or between these island possessions of the United States, shall be subject to the United States domestic classifications, conditions and rates of postage. (See pages 535 and 536.)

UNMAILABLE MATTER.

Obscene books, letters, papers, pictures, and postal cards; lottery circulars and letters; gunpowder, and other explosives; live or dead (not dried) reptiles, animals, and insects (except bees); poisons; and any articles liable to injure the mails or the persons of those handling them.

WEIGHING PACKAGES.

Have all packages weighed at the post office. Postage must be prepaid in full or the packages will not be dispatched.

REFORWARDING.

Letters will be forwarded from one post office to another upon the written request of the person addressed without additional charge for postage, but packages of third and fourth class matter cannot be forwarded or returned without a new payment of postage, unless postage is guaranteed, which must be stated on upper left-hand corner of wrapper or envelope.

THE SPECIAL DELIVERY SYSTEM

Mailable matter intended for special delivery may be mailed at, and will be delivered from, any post office in the United States.

Accordingly, every article of mailable matter to which is affixed a special delivery stamp of required denomination, or other stamps of equal amount with the words "special delivery" above or under them, in addition to the postage required by law, will, upon its arrival by mail, have immediate delivery by a special messenger within one mile of any post office or delivery station or branch of such office and within the city or village delivery limits of offices having delivery service where such limits extend in excess of one mile from the post office, station or branch, and by rural carrier to patrons, of rural service who reside more than one mile from the post office, station or branch, but within one-half mile of the rural route. Special delivery is made at city letter carrier post offices from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. and at all other post offices from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m., and after the arrival of the last mail, provided this is not later than 9 p. m.

This provision also applies to drop letters and other mailable matter deposited for local delivery, and to registered letters, when bearing special delivery stamps in addition to the full postage and the proper registry fee.

Special delivery stamps are sold at all post offices, and cannot be used for any other purpose than to secure immediate delivery.

MONEY ORDERS.

The money order system is intended to promote public convenience and to secure safety through the mails of small sums of money. The maximum amount of a single order is $100.

A person applying for a money order will be required to state the particulars upon a form of application which will be furnished by the postmaster.

Parties procuring money orders should examine them to see that they are properly filled out and stamped. This caution is necessary to avoid difficulties in the way of payment.

A money order may be endorsed once, but not oftener. The person who presents a money order for payment must be identified if unknown to the postmaster.

A money order may be repaid at the office of issue within one year, provided it bears not more than one endorsement. The fee will not be refunded. When a money order has been lost by either remitter, payee, or endorsee, a duplicate thereof will be issued by the department, free of charge, to the owner of the original upon his making application (stating the circumstances of the loss).

Money orders are paid at any money order office within 30 days after issue, but if paid at an office other than the one on which drawn a fee equal to that charged for its issue will be exacted.

The fees or charges for domestic money orders will be as follows:

|--|----------|
| For orders not exceeding $2.50 | 6 cents |
| For orders not exceeding $5 | 8 cents |
| For orders exceeding $5, and not exceeding $10 | 11 cents |
| For orders exceeding $10, and not exceeding $20 | 13 cents |
| For orders exceeding $20, and not exceeding $40 | 15 cents |
| For orders exceeding $40, and not exceeding $60 | 18 cents |
| For orders exceeding $60, and not exceeding $80 | 20 cents |
| For orders exceeding $80, and not exceeding $100 | 22 cents |

THE REGISTRY SYSTEM.

DOMESTIC.

The registry system is intended to accord valuable mail matter the greatest possible security.

Postmasters, before receiving a letter for registration, must require the sender to have it securely sealed in every part with mucilage or glue; to have it fully and legibly addressed; to have it bear name and address of sender; and to have affixed the necessary stamps to fully prepay postage, registry fee, and required surcharge.

First, second, and third-class mail may be registered. Fourth-class matter may also be registered if it is sealed and first-class rate of postage is paid thereon. All first-class mail intended for registration must be securely sealed in every part. Second and third-class matter valued in excess of $100, upon which a registry fee in excess of 30 cents is paid, must be sealed and first-class postage paid thereon.

Mail for dispatch via airplane service is accepted for registration, upon prepayment, by postage stamps affixed, of the required registration fee and surcharge if any, in addition to the airplane postage.

Two or more letters or parcels addressed to, or intended for, the same person cannot be tied or otherwise fastened together and registered as one.

The registry fees, which are in addition to the regular postage and surcharge if any, and the limits of indemnity therefor are as follows:

| Limit of Indemnity | Fee |
|--------------------------------------|------------|
| Not over $5 | 15 cents |
| Over $5 and not exceeding $25 | 18 cents |
| Over $25 and not exceeding $50 | 20 cents |
| Over $50 and not exceeding $75 | 25 cents |
| Over $75 and not exceeding $100 | 30 cents |
| Over $100 and not exceeding $200 | 40 cents |
| Over $200 and not exceeding $300 | 50 cents |
| Over $300 and not exceeding $400 | 60 cents |
| Over $400 and not exceeding $500 | 70 cents |
| Over $500 and not exceeding $600 | 80 cents |
| Over $600 and not exceeding $700 | 85 cents |
| Over $700 and not exceeding $800 | 90 cents |
| Over $800 and not exceeding $900 | 95 cents |
| Over $900 and not exceeding $1,000 | $1.00 |

Mail matter without intrinsic value for which no indemnity is provided may be registered at the minimum fee of 15 cents.

A registry surcharge is collectible in addition to the registry fee when the value of a registered article (or the known or estimated cost of duplication in case of non-negotiable securities) exceeds the limit of indemnity prescribed for the registry fee paid, and the sender is required to declare the value, or the known or estimated cost of duplication in case of non-negotiable securities. The local post office should be consulted for full particulars.

Return receipts for registered mail: Fee, if requested at time of mailing, 3 cents; after mailing, 5 cents; at time of mailing to show address of delivery, 23 cents.

An additional charge of 10 cents is made when registered mail is restricted in delivery to addressee only, or to the addressee or order.

DOMESTIC PARCEL POST.

A general parcel post in the United States provided for in Section 8 of the Act of August 24, 1912, went into effect January 1, 1913, and is now operative.

The parcel post regulations provide as follows:

"that hereafter fourth-class mail matter shall embrace all other matter, including farm and factory products, not now embraced by law in not exceeding in weight 70 lbs. in local, and all zones, nor greater in size than 100 inches in length and girth combined, nor in form or kind likely to injure the person of any postal employee or damage the mail equipment or other mail matter, and not of a character perishable within a period reasonably required for transportation and delivery. All parcel post must bear name of sender.

That for the purposes of this section the United States and its several Territories and possessions, excepting the Philippine Islands, shall be divided into units of area thirty minutes square, identical with a quarter of the area formed by the intersecting parallels of latitude and meridians of longitude, represented on appropriate postal maps or plans, and such units of area shall be the basis of eight postal zones as follows:

- (a) The first zone shall include all territory within such quadrangle, in conjunction with every contiguous quadrangle, representing an area having a mean radial distance of approximately fifty miles from the center of any given unit of area.
- (b) The second zone shall include all units of area outside the first zone lying in whole or in part within a radius of approximately one hundred and fifty miles from the center of a given unit of area.

- (h) The eighth zone shall include all units of area outside of the seventh zone.

RATES OF POSTAGE.

Parcels weighing eight ounces or less are mailable at the rate of 1½ cents for each two ounces or fraction of two ounces regardless of distance. Parcels weighing more than eight ounces are mailable at the pound rate shown in the table of zones, given on the following page; a fraction of a pound is considered a full pound.

Fourth-class Matter, known as domestic parcel-post mail, includes all parcels over 8 ounces in weight containing circulars, books, catalogs, and other matter wholly in print, together with merchandise, farm and factory products, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and plants, and all other mailable matter not embraced in the first and second classes. The same matter in parcels weighing 8 ounces or less is embraced in third-class mail.

Rates of Postage on Fourth-class Matter (over 8 ounces)—To be Fully Prepaid— are by the pound, according to distance or zone, a fraction of a pound being computed as a full pound, as shown in the following table and paragraphs (a), (b), and (c):

Note.—The rate for the first pound in each zone is shown in the table; the rates on additional pounds are: Local zone, 1 cent for each 2 pounds; first and second zones, 1.1 cents each pound; third zone, 2 cents; fourth zone, 3.5 cents; fifth zone, 5.3 cents; sixth zone, 7 cents; seventh zone, 9 cents; eighth zone, 11 cents; a fraction of a cent in the total amount of postage on any parcel being counted as a full cent.

Exceptions

(a) In the first or second zone, where the distance by the shortest regular practicable mail route is 300 miles or more, the rate is 9 cents for the first pound and 2 cents for each additional pound.

(b) On parcels collected on rural routes the postage is 2 cents less per parcel than shown in the foregoing table when for local delivery and 3 cents less per parcel when for other than local delivery.

*(c) Parcels weighing less than 10 pounds measuring over 84 inches but not more than 100 inches in length and girth combined are subject to a minimum charge equal to that for a 10-pound parcel for the zone to which addressed.

WHERE MAILABLE.

Parcels exceeding 8 ounces in weight must be mailed at a post-office, named or lettered station, or such numbered stations as may be designated by the postmaster, or delivered to a rural or other carrier duly authorized to receive such matter.

Parcels collected on star routes must be deposited in the next post-office at which the carrier arrives and postage charged at the rate from that office. A reduced rate applies to parcels collected on rural routes.

LIMIT OF WEIGHT AND SIZE.

If a parcel exceeds in weight 70 lbs. in local or other zones, or is greater in size than 100 inches in length and girth combined, it must be refused, no matter how small the excess may be in either case.

The law prescribes that a package to be admitted to the parcel post shall not exceed 100 inches in combined length and girth. In measuring the length the greater distance in a straight line between the two ends of the parcel shall be taken, while the girth is the actual measurement by a tape encircling the parcel at its thickest part.

International Registered Mail—Letters, prints of all kinds, including raised prints for the blind, single and reply-paid post cards, small packets, samples of merchandise and commercial papers may be registered to practically all foreign countries.

Fees—A registration fee of 15 cents in addition to postage chargeable for all Postal Union articles addressed to foreign countries. Parcel post packages may be registered to certain foreign countries, subject to fees ranging from 15 cents to 60 cents.

Indemnity—Limited indemnity is payable for the total loss (cover and contents) of Postal Union registered articles addressed to foreign countries. Limited indemnity, in the case of a few foreign countries only, is also payable for the loss, rifling or damage of international parcel post packages. (Consult postmaster)

A charge of 5 cents is collected from the sender, in addition to the postage and registry fee, for a return receipt for a Postal Union registered article requested at the time of mailing, and 10 cents if requested after mailing. Consult postmaster as to fees chargeable for return receipts for registered international parcel post packages.

A charge of 10 cents is made, under certain conditions, for an inquiry as to the disposal of any registered or insured article addressed to a foreign country unless the sender has failed to receive a return receipt for which he paid the required fee or is able to show, as prescribed, prima facie loss or other irregularity through fault of the Postal Service. Consult Postmaster.

International C.O.D. Service—International C.O.D. service is in effect with Austria, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Mexico, Norway and Sweden.

The C.O.D. service with Austria, Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden applies to insured parcels, whereas the C.O.D. service with Germany and Mexico applies to registered parcels. Also, the C.O.D. service with Mexico is extended to Postal Union printed matter, 8 ounce packages of merchandise and small packets.

The C.O.D. service to Austria and Germany is temporarily suspended, while the C.O.D. service with Hungary is temporarily suspended both ways.

Fees—The C.O.D. fees, which provide limited indemnity, range from 30 cents to 70 cents. (Consult postmaster.)

Return receipts for C.O.D. parcels sent to the countries mentioned, except Mexico, will be furnished upon request therefor by the sender and upon payment of a fee of 5 cents for each receipt; 10 cents for each receipt requested after mailing. No return receipt shall be furnished for registered C.O.D. parcels sent to Mexico.

International Insured Mail—International Insured parcel post service has been inaugurated between the United States and Austria, Brunei, Canada, Denmark (including Faroe Islands and Greenland), Dutch (Netherlands) East Indies, Dutch Guiana, Ecuador, Fanning Island, Federated Malay States, Finland, France (including Algeria and Corsica), French Indo-China, Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Greece, Hungary, Irish Free State, Italy and colonies, Leeward Islands, Macao, Malay States (Nonfederated), The Netherlands, Newfoundland (including Labrador), New Zealand, North Borneo (State of), Norway, Portugal, (including Madeira and the Azores), Portuguese West Africa (Angola, Cape Verde Islands, Guinea, St. Thomas Island and Prince's Island), Sarawak, Straits Settlements, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Western Samoa and Windward Islands. However, the insurance fees on parcels exchanged between Continental United States (not including Alaska) and Great Britain and Northern Ireland range from 20 cents to $1.50, providing for indemnity, in the event of loss, rifling, or damage, up to $2,000. Also, the maximum indemnity payable for the loss, rifling, or damage of insured parcels addressed to Canada is $200; to Portuguese West Africa $9.65; to Ecuador $50, and to Portugal (including Madeira and the Azores) $50, except that in case of Portugal the indemnity payable is restricted to cases of loss (wrapper and contents) only.

Return receipts for insured parcels addressed to foreign countries except Canada will be furnished only upon request therefor by the sender and upon payment of a fee of 5 cents for each receipt requested at time of mailing and 10 cents if requested after mailing.

Canada and Newfoundland—Mailable merchandise and printed matter designated as third and fourth-class matter and Postal Union “prints” addressed to Canada or Newfoundland may be insured for the same fees and under the same conditions so far as applicable, including payment of indemnity, as apply to domestic mail of these classes. Third-class or “printed matter” may be registered, if desired, but fourth-class parcels of general merchandise may be registered only when sealed and postage is paid at letter rate.

Senders’ return receipts are not obtained for insured parcels addressed to Canada, but may be obtained for insured parcels addressed to Newfoundland by payment of a fee of 5 cents, in addition to postage and insurance fee, when requested at the time of mailing; when requested subsequent to the time of mailing, a charge of 10 cents is made.

International Ordinary (Parcel Post) Mail—Limited indemnity may be paid in the actual amount of the loss, rifling, or damage to ordinary parcel post packages exchanged with certain countries. (Consult postmaster.)

A charge of 5 cents shall be made for an inquiry or complaint concerning any ordinary article (parcel-post package or Postal Union article) addressed for delivery in a foreign country, unless the sender is able to show, as prescribed, prima facie loss or other irregularity through fault of the Postal Service. (Consult Postmaster.)

TOWNS, VILLAGES AND DISTRICTS WITH NO POST-OFFICE OF SAME NAME

REVISED TO JULY 1, 1936

There are in Connecticut, towns, borough, and villages that do not appear in the list of post-offices. To make the Register as complete as possible in this respect, this list was prepared.

Representatives in Congress from Connecticut Since 1789

Previous to 1837 the Representatives from this State were elected by the people at large. The number at first, under the Constitution, was five and by later apportionments was changed in 1793 to seven, in 1823 to six, and in 1843 to four. From 1837 to 1843 they were elected one from each of the six districts into which the State was divided by an Act of the General Assembly; from 1843 to 1911 they were elected, one from each of the four districts established by the General Assembly of 1842, as follows: District number one, consisting of the counties of Hartford and Tolland; district number two, the counties of New Haven and Middlesex; district number three, the counties of New London and Windham; district number four, the counties of Fairfield and Litchfield. A fifth representative, to which the State is entitled under the census of 1900, was chosen at large. At the session of 1911 the State was divided into five districts as follows: District No. 1, County of Hartford; District No. 2, Counties of Tolland, Windham, New London and Middlesex; District No. 3, Towns of Cheshire, Meriden, Wallingford, Bethany, Hamden, North Haven, North Branford, Guilford, Madison, Woodbridge, Orange, West Haven, Milford, New Haven, East Haven and Branford in County of New Haven; District No. 4, County of Fairfield; District No. 5, County of Litchfield and the Towns of Southbury, Middlebury, Waterbury, Wolcott, Oxford, Naugatuck, Prospect, Beacon Falls, Seymour, Ansonia, and Derby in the County of New Haven. At the session of 1921, a law was passed creating the office of congressman-at-large to be in effect if the federal apportionment gave Connecticut six congressmen.

In instances where no districts are given the elections were at large.

GOVERNORS OF CONNECTICUT

The supreme executive power of the State is vested by the Constitution in the Governor. He has power to administer oaths, sign writs, and issue process. He is directed to see that the laws are faithfully executed. On special emergencies he may convene the General Assembly in special session at any place in the State. He is commander-in-chief of the militia of the State; has power to grant reprieves in all cases except impeachment; may himself be impeached; has power in the matter or requisitions for criminals. All commissions must be signed by him, and he may appoint Notaries Public and Commissioners in other states and in the territories. He has power to veto all bills passed by the Assembly, but his veto may be overridden by a majority vote in both Houses upon a reconsideration. Any bill not returned by him within five days, Sunday excepted, after being presented to him, becomes a law in like manner, as if signed by him unless the General Assembly by its adjournment prevents its return, in which case it does not become a law. He shall from time to time give to the General Assembly information of the state of government, and recommend such measures as he deems expedient. He may adjourn the General Assembly in case of disagreement between the two Houses to such time as he thinks proper, not beyond the day of the next stated session. He nominates to the General Assembly the judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts, appoints three members of Boards, of Fisheries and Game, a Dairy Commissioner, a Commissioner on Domestic Animals, and five Compensation Commissioners, and with the consent of the Senate, appoints the Insurance Commissioner, Highway Commissioner, Public Utilities Commissioners, Bank Commissioner, Tax Commissioner, Department of Public Welfare, Harbor Commissioners, Dental Commissioners, Commissioners of Pharmacy, State Tuberculosis Commissioners, and Commissioners of Labor and Factory Inspection, Commissioner of Motor Vehicle, Directors of the State Prison, members-at-large of the State Board of Agriculture, Board of Education, Commissioner of Health and a Public Health Council, members of the State Board of Finance, Athletic Commissioner, Welfare Commissioner, Commissioner of Control and Finance, Aviation Commissioner, Statutes Revision Commissioner, Milk Administrator and various other minor Boards and Commissions. He is ex-officio, a member of the Board of Finance and Control, Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, Education, Education of the Blind, Soldiers' Hospital Board, Agriculture, and Pardons, a member of the State Library Committee, a Trustee of the Connecticut State Hospital, a member of the Corporation of Yale University, a manager of Fitch's Home for the Soldiers, and one of the Board of Visitors to the Sheffield Scientific School.

The Governor presided over the General Assembly before it was divided into two houses in 1698; from that date until the adoption of the Constitution of 1818 he presided in the council or upper house, with a casting vote but with no veto power.

The Title of His Excellency was given to the Governor by an act passed in May, 1777.

The Governor holds his office for two years, and receives an annual salary of $4,650.

DEPUTY OR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNORS

Before the Constitution of 1818 the Deputy-Governor presided in council, or the upper house of the General Assembly, in the absence of the Governor, but when the Governor was present the Deputy-Governor had a voice in council. Until 1818 he could exercise the office of a justice of the peace throughout the State, and he could sign writs until 1879.

The Lieutenant-Governor is President of the Senate, has a casting vote therein, and the right to debate when it is in Committee of the Whole. In case of the death, resignation, refusal to serve, inability to perform the powers and duties of his office, impeachment, removal from office or absence from the State of the Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor is required by the Constitution "to perform the duties of the Governor, until another be chosen at the next periodical election for Governor and be duly qualified, or until the disability be removed, or until the Governor impeached or absent, shall be acquitted or return." He is ex-officio, a member of the Corporation of Yale University, the State Board of Education and the Board of Visitors to the Sheffield Scientific School.

He is a member of the Board of Finance and Control.

The title of His Honor was conferred upon the Lieutenant-Governor at the revision of the Statutes in 1784.

He is elected for two years and receives an annual salary of $1,410.

COMPTROLLERS

The office of Comptroller was created in 1786, by the General Assembly by whom the appointment was made until 1838, and since then, by the Constitutional Amendment of 1836, he has been elected by the people, in like manner as other State officers.

Before the institution of this office, orders on the Treasurer might be drawn by the Governor, or assistants; and by justices of the peace for sums under forty shillings. The committee of the Pay-Table, which this office superseded, was originally established to liquidate and adjust accounts of expenses relating to the War of the Revolution.

The Comptroller is required to adjust and settle all public accounts and demands, except grants and orders of the General Assembly, and to prescribe the mode of keeping and rendering all public accounts. It is his duty to state, from time to time, the amount of debts and credits of the State, to examine into the collection of taxes, to see that all officers engaged in their assessment or collection faithfully perform their duty, and to report to the General Assembly those who are unfaithful; to present all claims in favor of the State against estates of insolvent and deceased persons, and bring suits for the recovery of the money and property of the State.

He procures the State printing to be done, has the care of the State Capitol and grounds, and may appoint a superintendent and assistant superintendent thereof. He is required to submit to the General Assembly, at the opening of each regular session and oftener, if required, an abstract of the receipts and expenditures of the public funds for the two years ending the 30th of June preceding, and plans and estimates relating to the public expenditures, revenues and funds.

He is ex-officio, one of the Auditors of the Treasurer's accounts, and a member of the State Board of Equalization, Board of Canvassers, Board of Finance and Control and Banking Commission.

He is elected for two years and receives an annual salary of $2,350.

ATTORNEYS-GENERAL

The office of Attorney-General was created by the General Assembly of 1897. The incumbent is elected by the people, in the same manner as the other State officers and must be an attorney-at-law of at least ten years active practice at the bar of this State.

His duties include a general supervision over all legal matters in which the State is an interested party, except those over which prosecuting officers have direction. He is required to appear for the State, the several elective State officers, the State boards, commissions, agents, etc., and institutions, in all suits and other civil proceedings, excepting upon criminal recognizances and bail bonds, in which the State is a party or is interested, or in which the official acts and doings of said officers are called in question in any court or other tribunal. He is to give his opinion upon questions of law submitted to him by either branch of the General Assembly, to appear before legislative committees, when measures affecting the State treasury are pending, and take such action as he may deem to be for the best interests of the State, and act as general counsel for State officials in matters pertaining to their official duties. He is an ex-officio member of the Board of Finance and Control. He makes a biennial report to the Governor.

He is chosen for a term of four years and receives an annual salary of $9,200.

CHIEF JUSTICES

The highest court in Connecticut was the General Assembly, until 1784, when it relinquished its function as an appellate tribunal to the upper house, which, when sitting for these purposes, was designated as the Supreme Court of Errors. The presiding officer or Chief Judge was at first the Deputy Governor, and later the Governor. In 1807 the membership of this court was completely changed by substituting, under an Act of the preceding year, the Judges of the Superior Court the Chief Judge of which became the presiding officer. The customary appellation was for some years, Chief Judge, but in the Constitution of 1818 the term Chief Justice was employed, and confirmed a practice already established in that respect.
